WEATHER.

Rain and Warmer Today; Tomorrew Fair and Colder.

For the District of Columbia and Maryland, rain and warmer today. Tomorrow fair, colder; moderate south winds, shifting to northwest. For Virginia, fair in south, rain and warmer in north portion today. Tomorrow fair, colder; moderate south winds, shifting to fresh northwest to night.

For West Virginia, rain today, colder at night. Tomorrow colder and fair except snow in the mountains.

The disturbance that was over New Mexico Friday night has moved rapidly northeastward to the vicinity of Lake Michigan with increased intensity, and there was also a general and de-cided pressure fall to the eastward as

Lake Michigan with increased intensity, and there was also a general and decided pressure fall to the eastward as far as the coast. As a consequence rains and snows occurred over all districts east of the Rocky mountains, except in the southern portion of the south Atlantic district, and in places over the great central valleys the rainfall was heavy. Conditions were also unsettled west of the Rocky mountains, with low pressure and with snows and rains. Temperatures are very high for the season over the eastern half of the country, except over New England, while over the western half they are low, with minimum readings during the last twenty-four hours of twelve degrees below zero in North Dakota and central Wyoming.

There will be snow tomorrow in the upper lake region, and rain or snow to the eastward over New England, while in the lower lake region, the middle Atlantic states and the upper Ohio valley there will be rain, possibly turning into snow by night in the western lower lake region. In the south Atlantic and gulf states and the lower Ohio valley the weather will be fair today. Tomorrow fair weather will prevail generally over the eastern half of the country, except in the extreme northeast, where snow is probable.

It will be colder today in the upper lake and western lower lake region, the lower lake region, southern New England, the middle Atlantic states, the northern portion of the south Atlantic district and the upper Ohio valley. Flood warnings have been issued for the extreme-lower Ohio river, the Mississippi river in the vicinity of New Madrid, Mo., the Alabama, the Muskingum and Sciotor rivers.

The winds along the north Atlantic coast will be moderate to fresh easterly to southerly; on the south Atlantic coast will be moderate to fresh easterly, becoming variable; on the middle Atlantic coast fresh easterly to southerly; on the south allantic coast; on the upper lakes, fresh to strong south and southwest today, with rain, turning into snow by night on western tries.

Cuba Buys Gunboat Vicksburg.

The gunboat Princeton is not to be turned over to the Cuban government after all, as that island republic has purchased from the United States Navy the gunboat Vicksburg, now being used by the naval militia of the state of Washington. The gunboat is now poored at Seattle, and will be overhauled at the Puget sound yard for the Cuban government. The Vicksburg was launched at Bath, Me., in 1896, and was completed in 1898 in time to take part in the war with Spain. The gunboat is to be used for training naval cadets.
